

What is the school council?

The school council is a group of elected pupils who represent their peers and provide a platform for their ideas and concerns. It plays a vital role in enhancing school life, encouraging young people to voice their opinions on various matters, from social events to school rules. Members work closely with teachers and school leaders, helping to shape initiatives that improve the learning environment. The impact of the school council is significant; it fosters leadership skills, instills a sense of responsibility, and helps create a more inclusive community, ensuring every pupil's voice is heard and valued.

How can my child get involved?

Your child will need to write a manifesto that they can present to their class. Each child will then vote for who they would like their class councillor to be. Here are some tips to help the children with writing their manifestos...

Writing a manifesto for a school councillor can be exciting! Start by introducing yourself and sharing why you want to make a difference. Highlight what makes a good school councillor: being a good listener, approachable, and proactive in addressing student concerns. Include more specific ideas or changes you wish to promote, like improved facilities or more clubs for everyone. Don't forget to express your passion for representing your peers and making the school a better place for all. Keep it clear and engaging – show your personality and enthusiasm, and you'll grab everyone's attention! Good luck!
